

DOUGLAS DETRICK'S LITTLE ONE

Americana-inspired original songs with chamber music sensitivity

Little One blends Americana, jazz, and chamber music through original works that aren't afraid to share closely-held truths and time-honored traditionals of artists like Elizabeth Cotten. The group's first recording features songs dedicated to bandleader Douglas Detrick's family—it is the most personal project he's ever tackled, in a long line of intimate work. The quartet's unconventional instrumentation gives the group a unique ability to access a range of colors like no other ensemble
